

New Life in an Old Land: A Look at the History of the Augustana Historical Society

The Augustana Historical Society is a non-profit organization dedicated to preserving and promoting the history of the Augustana Evangelical Lutheran Church and its related institutions. The society was founded in 1907 by a group of Swedish-American pastors and lay leaders who were concerned about the preservation of their cultural and religious heritage. The society's mission is to collect, preserve, and interpret the history of the Augustana Church and its related institutions, and to make this history available to the public.

The Hills of Tuscany: A New Life in an Old Land

(Augustana Historical Society Publication) by Peter Campbell

★★★★☆ 4.5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 3162 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 257 pages

The Augustana Historical Society's collection includes over 100,000 items, including books, manuscripts, photographs, artifacts, and works of art. The society's collection is housed in the Augustana Historical Society Library and Archives, which is located on the campus of Augustana College in Rock Island, Illinois. The library and archives are open to the public, and researchers are welcome to use the society's collection for research purposes.

The Augustana Historical Society is a valuable resource for anyone interested in the history of the Augustana Church, Swedish immigration, or Swedish-American history. The society's collection provides a unique glimpse into the lives of Swedish immigrants and their descendants, and it offers a rich source of information for researchers and scholars.

The Founding of the Augustana Historical Society

The Augustana Historical Society was founded in 1907 by a group of Swedish-American pastors and lay leaders who were concerned about the preservation of their cultural and religious heritage. The society's founders believed that it was important to preserve the history of the Augustana Church and its related institutions, so that future generations could learn about the struggles and triumphs of their ancestors.

The society's first president was the Reverend Dr. Carl Swensson, who was also the president of Augustana College. Swensson was a strong advocate for the preservation of Swedish-American history, and he was instrumental in the founding of the Augustana Historical Society. The society's other founding members included the Reverend Dr. Johan Alfred Enander, the Reverend Dr. Gustav Andreen, and the Reverend Dr. Eric Norelius. These men were all prominent leaders in the Augustana Church, and they were all dedicated to preserving the church's history.

The Augustana Historical Society's Collection

The Augustana Historical Society's collection includes over 100,000 items, including books, manuscripts, photographs, artifacts, and works of art. The society's collection is divided into several different categories, including:

- Books and manuscripts: The society's collection of books and manuscripts includes over 50,000 items, including rare books, first editions, and manuscripts. The collection includes works on a wide range of topics, including theology, history, literature, and music.
- Photographs: The society's collection of photographs includes over 25,000 images, dating from the 1850s to the present day. The collection includes photographs of Swedish immigrants, Augustana Church leaders, and Augustana College students and faculty.
- Artifacts: The society's collection of artifacts includes over 10,000 items, including furniture, clothing, and religious objects. The collection provides a glimpse into the everyday lives of Swedish immigrants and their descendants.
- Works of art: The society's collection of works of art includes over 1,000 items, including paintings, sculptures, and prints. The collection includes works by Swedish-American artists, as well as works by artists from other countries.

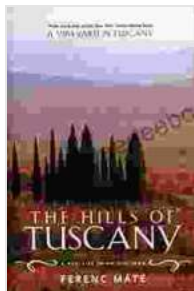

The Augustana Historical Society Library and Archives

The Augustana Historical Society Library and Archives is located on the campus of Augustana College in Rock Island, Illinois. The library and archives are open to the public, and researchers are welcome to use the society's collection for research purposes. The library and archives staff is available to assist researchers with their research needs.

The Augustana Historical Society Library and Archives is a valuable resource for anyone interested in the history of the Augustana Church, Swedish immigration, or Swedish-American history. The society's collection provides a unique glimpse into the lives of Swedish immigrants and their descendants, and it offers a rich source of information for researchers and scholars.

The Augustana Historical Society is a valuable resource for anyone interested in the history of the Augustana Church, Swedish immigration, or Swedish-American history. The society's collection provides a unique glimpse into the lives of Swedish immigrants and their descendants, and it offers a rich source of information for researchers and scholars. The Augustana Historical Society is a living testament to the rich history of the Augustana Church and its related institutions, and it is an important resource for anyone who wants to learn more about the history of Swedish immigration and Swedish-American culture.

The Hills of Tuscany: A New Life in an Old Land

(Augustana Historical Society Publication) by Peter Campbell

★★★★☆ 4.5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 3162 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 257 pages

FREE

DOWNLOAD E-BOOK

Dk Workbooks Science Third Grade: An In-Depth Exploration of Learning and Discovery

Science education plays a pivotal role in shaping young minds, fostering curiosity, critical thinking skills, and a lifelong appreciation for the natural...

Ex Parte Milligan Reconsidered: A Long Tail Analysis

Ex Parte Milligan was a landmark Supreme Court case that ruled that military tribunals could not try civilians in areas where the civil courts...