In the annals of animal rescue, the story of Stowaway Band 14 Ruby Collins stands as a testament to the indomitable spirit of both animals and humans. Rescued from the brink of death, this young big cat has since become a beacon of hope and inspiration for both animals and humans alike.

Ruby's journey began in a tragic way. As a young cub, she was found abandoned and alone in a crate, left to die in the scorching heat. Her tiny body was covered in maggots, and she was so weak that she could barely lift her head. Rescuers from Big Cat Rescue, a non-profit sanctuary in Florida, were called to the scene, and they knew immediately that they had to save this little one.

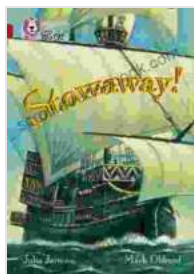

The rescuers carefully transported Ruby back to the sanctuary, where she received immediate medical attention. She was given fluids, antibiotics, and pain relievers, and her wounds were cleaned and dressed. The staff at Big Cat Rescue worked tirelessly around the clock to care for Ruby, and slowly but surely, she began to show signs of improvement.

As Ruby's health improved, her personality began to shine through. She is a playful and affectionate cat, and she loves to interact with her human caregivers. She is also very curious and loves to explore her surroundings. The staff at Big Cat Rescue quickly fell in love with Ruby, and they knew that she would be a permanent resident of the sanctuary.

Today, Ruby is a thriving young big cat. She has made a full recovery from her injuries, and she is now a happy and healthy member of the Big Cat Rescue family. She loves to play with her fellow big cats, and she enjoys spending time with her human caregivers. Ruby is a true survivor, and her story is an inspiration to all who hear it.

The story of Stowaway Band 14 Ruby Collins is a reminder that even in the darkest of times, there is always hope. With love, care, and compassion, we can help animals overcome even the most difficult challenges. Ruby's story is a testament to the power of the human-animal bond, and it is a story that will continue to inspire for generations to come.
