A Journey of Discovery: Unlocking the Parrot's Mind

Barbara's fascination with parrots began at a tender age, ignited by a chance encounter with a vibrant and intelligent blue-and-gold macaw. From that moment forward, she embarked on a lifelong quest to understand the intricacies of parrot behavior, unraveling the secrets of their communication, problem-solving abilities, and emotional depth.

Through meticulous observation, in-depth research, and countless interactions with parrots, Barbara gained an unparalleled understanding of their cognitive and emotional capabilities. She meticulously documented their remarkable problem-solving skills, their ability to use tools, and their capacity for complex emotional experiences, including love, grief, and empathy.

Empowering Parrot Owners: The Parrot Problem Solver

Recognizing the challenges faced by parrot owners, Barbara became determined to bridge the gap between scientific knowledge and practical application. In 1990, she founded The Parrot Problem Solver, a groundbreaking organization dedicated to providing evidence-based guidance and support to parrot owners worldwide.

Through workshops, seminars, and her acclaimed book, "The Parrot Problem Solver," Barbara empowers parrot owners with the tools and techniques they need to create enriching and fulfilling environments for their feathered companions. She emphasizes the importance of positive reinforcement, avian psychology, and tailored enrichment activities to promote a parrot's physical, mental, and emotional well-being.

A Legacy of Advocacy: Championing Parrot Welfare

Barbara's advocacy for parrots extends far beyond individual owners. As a passionate advocate for parrot conservation, she actively campaigns against the illegal parrot trade and supports efforts to protect parrot habitats worldwide. She believes that every parrot deserves the opportunity to live a long, healthy, and species-appropriate life, free from exploitation and harm.

Her unwavering commitment to parrot welfare has garnered international recognition. She has served as an advisor to numerous organizations, including the World Parrot Trust and the American Federation of Aviculture. She has also been awarded the prestigious Parrot Conservation Award from the World Parrot Trust, a testament to her dedicated work.

Barbara Heidenreich: A Life Dedicated to Parrots

Barbara Heidenreich's life is a testament to the extraordinary bond that can exist between humans and parrots. Through her tireless advocacy, her groundbreaking research, and her empowering teachings, she has transformed the understanding and care of parrots worldwide.

As an accomplished author, sought-after speaker, and dedicated parrot problem solver, Barbara continues to inspire and educate parrot owners, ensuring that these remarkable birds receive the love, respect, and enrichment they deserve. Her legacy as the "Parrot Problem Solver" will forever be etched in the annals of aviculture, a testament to her unwavering compassion and dedication.
